Lexington, Groesbeck Meet

On Courthouse
Bids Called For Remodeling Work

Bids have been called for alteration work on the Milam County Courthouse. County Judge O. B. Harden said sealed bids would be opened in Commissioners' Court at 2 p.m. December 10.

Judge Harden said $60,000 had been budgeted by County Commissioners for the remodeling project.

Major change will be enlarging the county clerk's office to include all of the north side of the first floor of the courthouse, including the corridor. The plan would close the north entrance.

An elevator will be installed in the west corridor and offices for county treasurer, county auditor, social security, veterans office, and drivers license office will be opened on the third floor. A waiting room, grand jury room, and restroom will also be on the third floor.

Basement restrooms will be renovated for primary use of courthouse employees. Exterior access to the basement, now leading to public restrooms, will be left for grounds maintenance equipment storage.

Plans, specifications, proposal forms and any additional information needed by contractors are available at the office of Emmett Trant and Associates, Architects, of Bryan.

Mrs. Nance said membership in the organization is open to any classroom teacher in Ben Milam, Ada Henderson, O. J. Thomas and Yoe High Schools. They will meet at 7 p.m. the second Monday of each month.

Bicycle Thefts In City Plague Police

Bicycle thefts continued to be reported and city police cautioned extra care in putting bicycles up or securing them with a chain lock.

Most of the bicycles reported missing were taken at night.

A 12-year-old boy confessed to taking a number of bicycles from Cameron yards, dismantling them and hiding the parts under houses in all parts of the city. Police recovered six bicycles and parts for another three bicycles.

City Officer Martinez said the youth had been placed on probation.

By F. M. L.

This columnist recalls his brief day of high school football.

It was much simpler even 20 years ago: Midwest football generally was the stuff of straight ahead, "four yards and a cloud of dust," Ohio State style, when T formation was relatively new and the single wing and Notre Dame box formation ("shift, two, three, four") were going out of vogue.

Those fall days saw upbacks, halfbacks, and linemen on defense; full, quarter, halfback, guards, tackles, center, ends on offense.

The nomenclature has changed or, better yet, proliferated.

The "T" has been split, spread, unbalanced, winged. The end is split or tight. A halfback is winged. The old upback is a linebacker. Graphic, isn't it?

In fact the "T" is losing its cross member, is being replaced by the "I" formation.

Fortunately, the fullback is still full and the quarterback near the center, contrary to the schizophrenia attacking all the other positions.

The players are better trained, fed and outfitted. The crowds are bigger, the stadiums plusher, the turf thicker and the chalk, seemingly, whiter.

The modern options provide gridiron excitement and all this specialization, equal at least to what is happening outside the stadiums.

One certainty remains: heads had to be harder then. No swath of plastic surrounded them. Leather helmets, yes, but after a season or two the headgear softened.

Traffic the way it is on the gridiron now, we former high school "heroes" would be run over by these sophisticated football machines, even of the smallest Texas high school.

109-109-109

Was advised the other day one way to deal with a rattlesnake in your path is to throw your hat toward it, attracting the snake's attenton and perhaps its strike.

Couldn't help but picture a man of gambling inclination, many hats at hand, "dealing" the snake in.

"Okay, snake, you got my ten gallon. I raise you one straw."

Rattle, rattle.

"Not good enough, huh?" (Throwing another hat aside.) "How about a fedora?"

Rattle, rattle hiss!

"Thought that'd move you. I deal one Homburg."

Rattle, rattle .... (the snake strikes the Homburg, choking.)

"Twenty-one," yells the man.

"Pass," gurgles the snake, rattling no more.

For Conservation
Joe Glaser Cited

Joe Glaser was honored by Temple Kiwanis Club Tuesday as Best Conservation Farmer in the Central Texas Soil and Water Conservation District.

Glaser, a farmer in the Buckholts area, will receive a plaque from the Cameron Lions Club and his name will be entered for regional and state recognition in the Fort Worth Press Conservation Award.

Wayne Mann, Cameron SWCS office, said "Joe Glaser has always been first to apply new programs in his farming operations. He has been progressive in adopting the recreation program and was one of the first to plant coastal bermuda in the blackland area."

Glaser is principally engaged in livestock production with emphasis on poultry and hogs. He employs about ten families in the Buckholts area on his farms and construction jobs. He also has a local chicken sexing crew that works at his poultry farm and in Bryan.

The Best Conservation Farmer selection committee noted Glaser's efforts in land leveling for drainage and pasture planting. He was also commended for cooperating with other farmers in the area and the Central Texas SWCS district to improve area farms.

Mann said they took into account his "community - mindedness, his efforts to keep his own land in excellent shape and his interest in his neighbors improving their land." Mann commented that Glaser had used his heavy dirt moving equipment at a loss on many occasions in an effort to improve the area. "We couldn't ask for better cooperation," Mann said, "and much of the conservation work couldn't have been done without his cooperation."

Glaser has been building his farming and livestock operation for about 30 years. He is a native of Buckholts, starting mostly with rented land. He now has about 1,000 acres in the Central Texas District and additional acreage in the Bartlett SWCS District. He is cited regularly as an example of how applying good farming methods and being receptive to progressive ideas can increase profits.

In his recreation program, Glaser has developed about 75 acres of water on two farms. He has stocked the nine lakes with 35,000 catfish, built cabins, docks and roads with automatic gates.

He also promotes dove and quail hunting on his land by providing for wildlife in his planting plans.

Recognized for conservation work, along with Glaser, were: Tilmon J. Prater, Jr., of Bell County, Comeback Farmer of the Year and Dr. E. D. Cook, professional man contributing the most to conservation of natural resources. Dr. Cook is an agronomist with the Blackland Experiment Station at Temple.

City To Host 1-A Bi-District

One of Texas' 1-A bi-district games is scheduled for Cameron's Yoe Field 7:30 p.m. Friday when the Lexington Eagles meet the Groesbeck Goats.

Judge Tom Reavley

The Lee County 1-A power brings an 8-2 record to Yoe Field, their only losses to Giddings and Smithville. Groesbeck at 7-3 defeated powerhouse Clifton in early season play.

The 1-A pairing is expected to attract a good crowd, Cameron Chamber officials report. Yoeman head coach Hal Stanislaw and Forrest Sapp were active in making arrangements for the playoff in Cameron.

It is another playoff game among several in recent years hosted by Cameron.

Tickts are $2 for reserved seats and $1.75 for general admission.

Last year, Rosebud and Rogers battled for a 1-A regional crown on Yoe Field, the game hosted by Cameron Chamber of Commerce acitvity.

Yoe Field seats about 3,500, but can hold up to 6,000 on a standing room only basis.

Both teams bring medium-size squads to the bi-district playoff. No favorite has been indicated based on regular season play.

Lexington is led by tri-captains, quarterback Rick Spencer, a 146-pound senior, fullback Kenneth Patschke, a 190-pound senior, and tackle Marshall Herklotz, a 220-pound senior. Groesbeck fields a team with 15 returning lettermen.

Groesbeck brings a team led by seven seniors, fielding three linemen over 200 pounds, including: center Charles Little at 208, tackle Rex Henderson at 212 and end Jimmy Herod at 212.

Bands from both schools will perform, barring inclement weather. Workers from Cameron will man program distribution, ticket sales and stadium aisles.

Mrs. Barbara Smitherman, Cameron Chamber secretary - manager, said Cameron was "pleased that Lexington and Groesbeck chose Cameron for the game site."

Clark Sworn As Councilman; Projects Set

The City Council Tuesday in a regular council meeting watched the swearing in of interim councilman Robert M. Clark, who fills the unexpired term of John Hays, who died two weeks ago.

Council also approved placement of both sewer and water extension contracts with B&W Construction of Bryan, for a total of $104,721.60 after a Killeen firm was unable to meet commitment time on a bid, according to City Secretary Buddy Fuller.

Construction on the extensions to North Cameron and Cameron Industrial area will begin Monday, Fuller said.

Contracts for the construction projects were: $41,813.17 for the sewer extension and $62,908.43 for water.

Fuller said the Council also approved a bid to move the labor shed near the airport to the City Maintenance Building in southeast Cameron.

Routine reports from city public works and water-sewer departments showed continued efforts to replace and lower water and utility lines at construction sites along East Sixth and Seventh Sts.

Construction of culverts was about the last stage of sub-surface work prior to actual hot-mix asphalt paving by Slough Construction Co., of Temple.

Councilmen are: R. W. Wells, Lawrence Zotz, Starrett Hickman, Lester Turner. E. A. Perrin is mayor.

Clark is manager and an officer of Milam Grain Co.

'In Crowd' Joins El Club Lazarillo

The 'in thing' seems to be El Club Lazarillo — or as it was once known, the Spanish Club of Yoe High. With 80 members, a vivacious sponsor, fun things like a full dress fiesta or chili supper for a monthly meeting, how could it miss?

Miss Rose Almazan, language teacher at Yoe High, a native of Taylor and a graduate of the University of Texas, is guiding hand for the Club. She firmly believes that it can be an instrument for her students to better relations with Pan American countries.

"Lazarillo was a little boy in a favorite story who was mischievous but also a help to those who needed him, such as a blind woman he befriended. I hope El Club Lazarillo will serve as a guide to understanding in the same way, flavored with fun," Miss Almazan said.

The November meeting was a fiesta complete with Spanish hat dance, pinata filled with candy, chili dip and Fritos. A constitution has been written by Gloria Woodruff and will be first order of business at the December meeting. A chili supper is planned and a trip to Austin for 25 delegates to the Pan American Student Forum convention in March.

And the students not only learn about making pinatas and Spanish dances, they also 'hablar espanol.'

Miss Almazan stresses conversational Spanish in the classroom, and it seems to work. As one of her students explained "You have to learn Spanish — nothing in that class is in English — if you don't learn Spanish you don't even know when the class is over."

Doris Tone and Mary Ann Olivarri dance El Jarabe Tapatio, the national dance of Mexico, at the Spanish Club Fiesta held at the Ben Milam Cafeteria November 5. Miss Rose Almazan, Spanish teacher and club sponsor, taught the girls the dance.

Spanish Club members scramble for candy after the pinata, a turquoise and pink pig, was broken open at the Spanish Club Fiesta in Ben Milam Cafeteria.

Miss Rose Almazan, Spanish teacher and club sponsor, turns Kathryn Kahler in the right direction to swing at the pinata, a pink and turquoise pig she made for The Spanish Club Fiesta. Many club members had a chance to swing at the pinata before it was finally broken.

The Somerville club is tall, he said, and it is too early to predict outcome of that game.

Yoemen Store Jerseys After 41 - 22 Loss To RR Dragons

Cameron Yoemen are taking a well - earned rest from the gridiron and planning for a better season next year. The Yoemen fell to Round Rock Friday night in a 41 - 22 upset to close out district play. This was the seventh loss for Cameron this year.

The Yoemen were handicapped by a shortage of experience and senior gridsters. The team was practically a junior - sophomore group, and their best efforts were usually no match for older, heavier and more experienced teams.

Yoe defense came on strong in every game and kept the losses from the overwhelming class. Improvement on offense showed in Friday's game with Cameron's 22 points being the largest score for the Yoemen all year.

Cameron's Yoe High Band treated fans to an impressive exhibition of precision marching during halftime as new band director Bob Carney and his family were introduced. Rev. and Mrs. Wirt Skinner were cited for their help with the band before Carney was hired.

The Round Rock Dragons lived up to their "monster" title Friday, scoring in the first eight seconds of the game on a 45 - yard pass and run play by quarterback Chris Walsh and halfback Chester Caldwell.

The carnage continued as the Dragons scored again starting on their own 47 with halfback Monroe Daniels making a TD on a 45 - yard run. A booted PAT ran the score to 14 - 0.

Glenn King intercepted for the Dragons to begin their next drive. Eight plays and 61 yards later fullback Bob Herber drove the final yard through the middle for another touchdown. Caldwell's kick made the score 21 - 0.

Cameron got on the scoreboard with a seven - play march beginning on the Yoe 49. Quarterback Robert Brashear passed to Johnny Steamer for six yards and the touchdown. Tailback Ken McLerran passed to Steamer for 2 points, while a fake kick kept the Dragons occupied.

The Dragons made it 28 - 8 at the end of the first half with a Daniels TD and Caldwell kick.

Round Rock managed another score in the third quarter with Caldwell doing the honors from one yard out.

The Yoemen began a 34 - yard drive in the third quarter which ended with a Brashear to Steamer pass at the start of fourth quarter action. Mike Darilek kicked for points and the score was narrowed to 34 - 15.

The Yoemen added another TD as McLerran scored from one yard out after a 53 - yard drive. Darilek again booted the PAT and the score was 34 - 22 with 9:55 left.

Daniels put the Dragons up to 41 points with his final touchdown and Walsh's kick.

Badgers, Cougars Clash At Jarrell

JARRELL

The Buckholts Badgers meet the Jarrell Cougars tomorrow (Friday) night in a District 10B six-man football contest in Jarrell as both teams close out the 1968 campaign.

The Badgers come into the game posting a 7-2-0 record and have beaten Jarrell twice this year, 54-27 and 36-0.

Offensively, the Badgers have Norman Haisler, Jr., a talented Junior tailback who has racked up 108 points, and his brother, Gordon, a Sophomore wingback, at the running-back slots.

Senior Alan Barkemeyer will handle the quarterbacking duties. Barkemeyer has thrown ten touchdown passes this year.

David Zajicek will be at center, and Rich Kudlacek and Mike Jones will man the end positions. Kudlacek and Jones will anchor the defense, while Jerry Zelisko will see double duty as punter and end. Zelisko is booting the ball at an average of 39 yards a punt this season, and is aggressive on defense.

Jarrell will be led by quarterback Freddie Garcia, with Andrew Palousek and Ceceilio Jaramillo at the halfback positions.

The Cougars have won just one of eight games this year, a 1-0 forfeit over Coolidge in their season opener. With only one game to go, the Cougars should finish last in District 10B.

Oglesby clinched the title, with a 4-0 record, with 96 points; Jonesboro, 2-1, 78 points; Buckholts, 1-2, 79 points; Milano, 1-2, 86; Jarrell, 0-3, 13.

DOORS OF YOE

By Jane Callaway

The National Honor Society welcomes its new members — Rebecca Angell, A. J. Hurtik, Michael Darilek, Mary Stanislaw, John Ben Sutter, Cynthia Krieg, Ann Arthur, Gay Chancey, Rickey Bradley, Doris Tones, Corliss Chamberlain, Ronnie Richardson, Mahalia Petty, Julia Vaculin, Edward Whitley. Congratulations!

Well, Miss Rosson had about enough of our English Class one day last weekend said, "If the shoe fit, wears it." That was the laughing you heard.

Regina, you do have interesting dreams — Mrs. Miller a bus driver and poor Miss Kosel — the victim. By the way, guess you noticed that I misspelled Miss Kosel's name last week.

It is going to be a bit strange with no football game Friday night. Football is such a big part of school during the fall. I know that we all appreciate the team and coaches, the band, the cheer leaders, and pep squad. Sorry that Buttons Cochran moved to Caldwell.

Renee introduced us to a lot of girls from Round Rock that she knew while she lived there. Bill, how did you like Jerry?

Jo Ann, how does that go? "Can't get all my eggs in one basket." Your forgetter is as good as mine.

This is National Book Week. How long since you read a good book? Theme for Book Week is "Go Places Witn Books."

Mrs. McDermott and Mrs. Carter have our school library all fixed up since our move to the auditorium and we have lots of new books. Go by our public library if you haven't lately.

Diann, anything interesting on the Yarrellton news?

Well, the other night our house had a "slight" jolt. For some reason I thought I could kick higher than I really can. You know the result—my feet seemed to separate from the rest of me and my head went "doin-n-n-g." Now, I have an excuse for the things I do—like walking all the way to my Grandmother's for our house key only to find the door unlocked when I got back.

Gina, how about a cupcake—a chocolate one?

Janice, did you find that bug? And Dorthy, that will teach you to sleep in cars.

County Agent's Notes...

Cotton Root Rot Can Be Reduced

By J. D. Moore

Most farmers during the weeks ahead will be considering crop plans for next year. Because of above normal rainfall and high humidity, plant diseases were common in all of our 1968 crops. Research has established the fact that many plant diseases become more severe as a result of continuous cropping to one crops or crop family over a period of time.

For example, if a field has been planted continuously to cotton and is heavily infested with cotton root rot fungus, consideration should be given to the use of a member of the resistant grass family such as corn, grain sorghum or small grain in rotation.

TO REDUCE ROOT ROT

A combination of practices that are carried on each year is necessary for best results. Where recommended practices are carried out over a period of one to three years, root rot damage is reduced to 5 percent or less. It is necessary to follow the recommended practices continuouly in order to keep the damage below 5 percent. No chemical treatment has been economical for control on cotton.

1. Prepare map of farm or ranch - check root rot infested areas and record this information on the map. Keep this map up-to-date each year.

2. Bury large tonnage of organic matters - Just before growing cotton bury up to 5 tons (dry weight) of green or dry organic matter. Turn the crop residues of grain sorghum, oats, corn or cotton burrs under 6 to 12 inches deep. Grain sorghum has proven to be especially effective when rotated with cotton.

3. Deep - plow infested areas with moldboard plow - Deep-plow 6 to 18 inches in the summer or early fall when the soil is dry. Apparently the deep plowing helps to kill the root rot fungus by drying, aeration, killing old cotton roots and destroying roots of susceptible weeds. Because the fungus occurs at depths of 8 feet in the soil it is impossible to economically eradicate it.

4. Produce early cotton - In most cases early planted cotton has more mature bolls before it is killed by root rot.

5. Grow crops in rotation with non - susceptible crops prevents an additional build - up of the root rot fungus. In most rotations cotton is grown each second, third or fourth year. Then too, the total fertilizer bill may be reduced by following a crop rotation system. A leaflet, "Root Rot Losses of Cotton Can Be Reduced", MP-361, is available at the county agents office.

Farm Bureau HoldsConvention, Elects Officers

Twelve official voting delegates from Milam County Farm Bureau attended the 35th annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau November 10 - 13 in Dallas, according to Robert Jungmann, president of the county organization.

Guest speakers featured during the convention were Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, State Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, and American Farm Bureau Federation President Charles B. Shuman. Arthur Hoist addressed the convention at the banquet Tuesday night.

Representing Milam County were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jungmann of Buckholts, Mrs. Bernice Charles of Rockdale, Charles Becker and Oscar Heintz of Thorndale, and Cameron delegates Mr. and Mrs. Bentley Hause, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Angell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dodd, and S. W. McClaren Jr.

Newly elected 1969 officers for the Bilam County Farm Bureau are: Robert Jungmann, Texas president; Edwin Lehmann, Buckholts, first vice president; and Morris Coward, Cameron, second vice president.

Newly elected directors are Reeves Brown and Derwood Cobb of Cameron, serving a two year term.

A marketing quota referendum for the 1969, 1970 and 1971 crops will be held December 2 through 6. This is the first time a peanut referendum has been conducted by mail.

These are the same dates as the cotton referendum and those producers with both a peanut and a cotton allotment will get ballots for each referendum. These produces are cautioned that each ballot is placed in the proper envelope for mailing.

You are eligible to vote in the peanut referendum if you are entitled to share 1968 - crop peanuts on a farm which acreage harvested for nuts exceeds 1 acre. A landlord of a standing rent, cash rent, or fixed rent is not eligible to vote.

The national peanut acreage allotment will be 1,610,000 acres for the 1969 crop.

Quotas will be put into effect if approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. Whether or not the quotas are approved, the 1969 - crop peanut acreage allotment will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

If at least two - thirds of those voting approve, quotas will be in effect in each of the three years. Growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support at a rate to be announced later. Non - complying farms will receive no price support, and marketing penalties will apply to any "excess" peanuts produced.

If more than one - third of the voters oppose, quotas and penalties will not be in effect for 1969-crop peanuts. Price support available to growers who comply with their acreage allotments would drop to 50 percent of parity, and another referendum would be held in 1969 to determine if marketing quotas would be in effect the following three years.

AD HALL MEETING

Ad Hall Community Center annual meeting will be held Friday, November 22 at 7:30 p.m. One officer will be elected and everyone is urged to attend.

Poultry is a low-calorie meat, say Extension foods specialists, but preparation can add many calories.

An average serving, 3-½ ounces, of roasted turkey has only 190 calories.

Equal quantities of poultry are higher in protein than other meats because of their low fat content.

Unstuffed frozen turkeys should be thawed until pliable before cooking. Do not thaw commercially frozen, stuffed birds before cooking.

You Don't Say

Kind of a

A or AN is completely unnecessary after the form KIND OF or SORT OF.

Correct and far better taste is: That KIND OF apple is delicious. That SORT OF talk is ambiguous.

This is simple but it IS poor taste and will be quickly noted by people who enjoy good English.

We're growing taller in Texas all the time!

Building a new cable mill at Marshall, more smelting potlines at Rockdale, and expanding chemical production at Point Comfort . . . that's Alcoa in Texas today.

We came here 20 years ago, settled at Point Comfort and produced the first aluminum made in Texas. Three years later, a new smelter at Rockdale. And soon, a new cable mill at Marshall in East Texas to supply the expanding electrical and utility industries.

We're bustling at all points. Alcoans in Texas are refining, smelting and fabricating the best in aluminum . . . and producing a host of chemical products.

Soon there will be nearly 4200 Alcoa employees in the state with an annual payroll of about $35 million . . . plus liberal insurance, hospitalization and retirement benefits.

Cooperation of Texans in our plant communities and the efforts of Texans toward preserving a good business climate have helped us grow.

Thanks for the encouragement . . . we're proud of standing tall in the land of the Lone Star.

...More on the Golden Rule. How big is it? What will it do for a man? Just how far does it reach? Well, all major religions support it, and all ethical teachers of the ages confirm it. But Mr., it is a personal thing and consequently, it is only as big as you. Are you a good citizen, a good neighbor, a good American, a good Christian? These questions are asked with my own happiness and welfare in mind. You will treat me as you treat all others. Your character reflects your opinion of the Golden Rule. The title words, "Have Them," narrows our thinking but at the same time calls us to universal interest. Why should men stop to minister to others, especially, if I am one of them? A thorough, personal appreciation of the Golden Rule, will make of you a man fit to die, and will reward you with all that is eternal.
More on the Golden Rule next week.
